Southland Times 25 Nov 1863 Resident Magistrate's Court – Saturday, 21st November before M. Price, Esq., R.M.

Alleged robbery. Thomas Thorpe, alias _orkey, was charged with stealing a bag containing £40 from Richard Bulliman. It appeared by the evidence of the prosecutor, a butcher and general storekeeper in the ownership of Lauder, at the Elbow, that on the _th instant he had deposited a small bag containing the money in notes, gold, and silver, beneath the counter of the store, while he left it – unprotected – on some business. On returning he missed the money, and after making every search, he found the bag containing the greater portion of the money, “planted” underneath a house belonging to Mr Fletcher, about 200 yards from his own house. Suspicion attached to the prisoner, from the fact of he and another man being the only persons who had seen the prosecutor with the money while they were in his shop. Sergeant Morton, who arrested the prisoner, gave evidence of having found the remainder of the money also hid near the place where the other portion was found. When he arrested the prisoner where he was staying, at Fletcher’s, he did not find any money on him. He knew the prisoner by repute as a bad character. After a few remarks from Mr South as to the frail nature of the evidence of the prosecution against the prisoner, the Bench, in discharging him, expressed a doubtful opinion of his innocence.
