Iredell, he was sent to Cheltenham College, and was commissioned in the Bombay Infantry when he was 17, and was promoted to lieutenant in 1856. He served in the suppression of the Indian Mutiny in 1857-8. His next service was in Kathiawar, in 1860-61. He was promoted to full colonel in February, 1880, and served in the Afghan War, taking part in the march from Quetta to the relief of Kandahar, and in the affair at the Kojak Pass. He was afterwards in command of the Chaman garrison, and commanded a field force in the Argandah Valley. For these services he was mentioned in dispatches. His promotion to major-general was dated June, 1889, and he was placed on the unemployed supernumerary list of the Indian Army in 1891, being promoted to lieutenant-general in 1893. Ten years later he was gazetted hon. colonel of the 114th Mahrattas. General Iredell married in 1867 Katharine Helen, daughter of John Green, of Dublin, and granddaughter of the Hon.
