Daily Southern Cross 11 Feb 1863 Arrival of the 'Gertrude'

We announced in yesterday's edition the arrival of the ship 'Gertrude' 1,300 tons, Captain J. C. Congdon from London, but were unable to give a statement of her passage, with names of passengers and manifest. We now supply the particulars. She left the docks on the 1st November, and weighed anchor from Gravesend on the 4th. Sailed from the Downs on the 7th and took leave of Start Light, bearing N.N.E. 14 miles, on the 12th. Heavy gales of wind were here experienced: but afterwards succeeded by variable weather. Sailed outside Cape de Verd Islands, and on the 27th the Island of Antonio was sighted bearing E by N. 30 miles. The ship 'City of Alberas' from Glasgow, bound to Calcutta was spoken with same day in lat. 15° 57' N long 25° 31' W. On the 29th signalled a Dutch barque from Amsterdam. Severe weather was met with on the 3rd December. On the 7th spoke the barque 'Cornwallis' 72 days from Madras, bound for London. The S.E. trades were struck in about 3° 46' N lat., the equator being crossed on the 7th December in long. 23° W. The trades were lost in about 28° 45' S. lat. On the 26th December passed the meridian of the Cape of Good Hope: the easting being run down in 45° to 45½° S. lat. During the early part of January heavy weather was met with, the vessel straining heavily and shipping large quantities of water. On the 6th February boarded the 'Bengalean' from Melbourne, 12 days out, bound for Callao, and at 8 a.m. on the same day made the land of New Zealand about 60 miles south of Cape Maria Van Diemen. Sailed down the coast with light winds and fine weather, and came to an anchor in the harbour about 9 o'clock on the night of Monday last. There were six deaths on board and one birth. The general health of the passengers throughout the voyage was good; and the ship comes into port in a very cleanly and creditable condition in every respect. The kind and courteous attention of the Captain and officers to the wants of the passengers during the voyage has not been allowed to pass without a warm acknowledgement as the following testimonials will prove:- ... Passengers: John, Charlotte, John C., Jane F., William J., Sarah, Clara E., and Arthur Moginie...

A somewhat singular disaster occurred in Queen-street last evening, about six o'clock, at the premises known as the Beehive, occupied by Mr Moginie, toy dealer, and belonging to Mr T. G. Shepherd, of Mangapai. The recent improvements effected by the City Board at the upper end of Lower Queen street, by filling up, and causing the street to have a gradual rise from Wellesley-street to Wakefield-street had rendered it necessary for the shops on the west side to be raised considerably above their present levels. Several of the shops had been successfully elevated to a corresponding height with those on the east side of the street, and for the past two days about a dozen workmen have been employed under Mr Jones, contractor, in attempting to place the "Beehive" on a level with the neighbouring buildings. By about five o'clock last evening the building had been raised to the required height: a slight movement only being required to place it on the square with the adjacent buildings and the street.

In attempting, however, to put the finishing touch to the work, the workmen, it is surmised, owing to the darkness, struck one of the supports, and the building fell with a loud crash. The back portion of the house appears to have sunk first, leaving the front side elevated. Most fortunately none of the workmen were injured by the accident, and the contractor had a very narrow escape. At the time of the occurrence the shop was locked up and the shutters fastened, the occupants having closed the premises at dusk and retired to their private residence. Owing to the shock of the fall, the shutters were burst open and thrown into the street, and the window frames were smashed. The whole of the goods, principally toys, on the shelves were thrown down and broken, and the building itself – being of wood, with corrugated iron sides and roof – is twisted so much, that it is feared that it will have to be rebuilt. The accident cannot be ascribed to inexperience in the work, as Mr Jones, the contractor, had previously raised the adjoining premises occupied by Messrs Collins and Carey. We could not ascertain last evening the amount of damage sustained, but we understand a survey is to be held today.

Cases adjourned till Thursday: Somerville v. Moginie

Daily Southern Cross 7 Nov 1865

The annual meeting of the Auckland Permanent Building and Investment Society was held last evening at eight o'clock, at the society's office, Canada Buildings. Mr Herbert Ashton, president, occupied the chair. There was a large attendance of shareholders. Mr A. Boardman, secretary, submitted a statement of accounts and the first annual report, which indicated the success which had attended the society, notwithstanding the depression which existed during the last twelve months. These documents were unanimously adopted by the shareholders. Mr H. Ashton was re-elected president for the ensuing year, and Mr W. C. Wilson treasurer; Messrs James Watson, D. M. Beere, J. Potter, C. Witheford, directors; Messrs J. Moginie and R. Cameron auditors; and Mr Ewen, of the firm Newman and Ewen, trustee in the room of the late Mr Edward King. The thanks of the shareholders were voted to the chairman, secretary, treasurer, and members of the late board, after which the meeting separated.
