

New Zealand Applications for Letters Patent

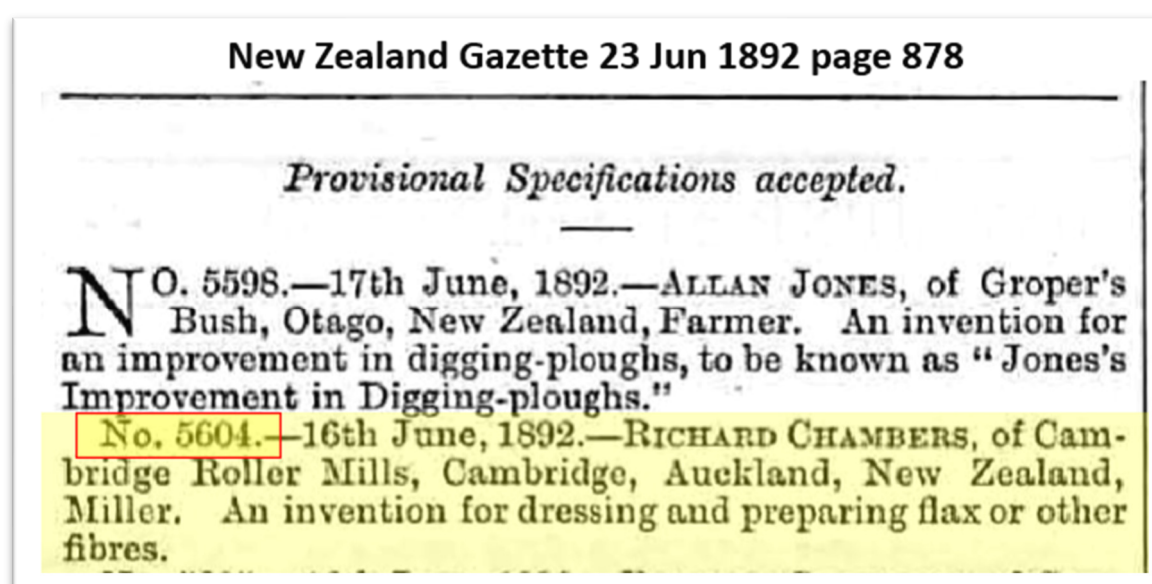

References to records held at Archives NZ Wellington for the period 1863-1929

For each patent the records may include duplicate Letters Patent, application forms, drawings, and other miscellaneous documents all kept together in one file.¹ There are also Registers of Patents. In addition to dates of provisional and complete acceptance they also record whether the patent became void, lapsed, or was abandoned or transferred.²

Use the numbers associated with Patent entries published in the Appendices to the Journal of the House of Representatives (to 1890), the New Zealand Gazette (to 1912) or the Patent Office Journal to identify the relevant R Number to request.
