09 Jul 1848: Sir, Perceiving an advertisement in the Halifax relative to Emigration to New Zealand, would you please inform me if myself and family are eligible for a free passage to Nelson. I am a farm labourer, 32 years of age, wife 29 and three children at the respective ages of 4, 6 and 8 years. An answer to the above will much oblige your obedient servant, Thomas Dean. I write a similar letter to this a few days ago which I presume you must not have received.

Annotation on the back: Form sent 26 Jul 1848

General Letter 1848/1680 (CO 208/60): <https://nla.gov.au/nla.obj-2203054311/view>

03 Aug 1848: Sir, I received your Instructions on Thursday last and in reference to the amounts of money which I should be able to advance for a passage to New Zealand I beg to state that I am in possession of little more than twenty pounds, which after deducting the expence to London and procuring the necessary outfits for a wife and four children would not leave at my disposal more than 10 or 12 pounds, a sum which I am willing to advance if the Company think sufficient. An early answer will oblige and if favourably I may procure the necessary Certificates and make other arrangements necessary for so long a voyage.
